THE RIGHT TOOLS FOR THE JOB

No matter what job we're faced with, we have the cleaning technology to tackle it. We can use any cleaning equipment that is specified on a tender – whether that's steam cleaning with Doff, media blasting with VorTech, Ibox or Torc, or chemical cleaning to remove stubborn substances.

Our proven processes, combined with our in-depth experience and expertise in cleaning a range of surfaces and contaminants, allow us to achieve unsurpassed standards of cleaning, while mitigating the risk of damage. Our second-to-none service offers a cost efficient, fast, and sympathetic approach that protects and preserves surfaces for the best possible outcome.

MEDIA BLASTING

Media blasting can be used at extremely high pressure to remove stubborn substances, like paint from metal, or at a very gentle pressure to clean delicate soft stone. Our choice of media depends on the nature of the contaminant and surface material.

STEAM CLEANING

Steam cleaning can effectively and efficiently remove water-soluble contaminants such as algae and lichen, surface dirt and more from soft, sensitive surfaces. Using pressurised steam at 150 degrees, this approach achieves outstanding cleaning results while significantly reducing potential damage.

CHEMICAL CLEANING

Heavy duty contaminants can require special measures to ensure that staining is removed. Chemical cleaning, using products including degreaser, prohibitor for algae regrowth, restoration cleaner, acid wash and graffiti remover, tackles stubborn, difficult-to-remove substances.

PRESSURE WASHING

Pressure washing is ideally suited to durable surfaces such as concrete, block paving and cladding. With high pressure and flow, it can be quicker than steam cleaning. Cold water can be used to pressure wash temperature sensitive surfaces.

REACH AND WASH

Reach and wash is a system of 24-metre long, water-fed telescopic poles that can safely reach high windows from the ground. Using a combination of soft bristled brushes to remove dirt and grime and pure water jets to rinse, it leaves a spotless finish.

By adjusting and controlling pressure and heat wood can be thoroughly cleaned without damaging the surface.

Pressurised steam makes light work of removing built-up grime from external and internal cladding at Ashton Gate Stadium.

McDonalds sites are cleaned without the use of harmful chemicals and work is completed out-of-hours to minimise disruption to business.

Media blasting uses micro-abrasive media such as grit or soda alongside pressurised air to remove graffiti from this brick wall quickly and effectively.

SPECIALIST ACCESS EXPERTISE

When it comes to reaching high-level, awkward-to-get-to exterior surfaces our experienced team will find a way to get the job done without compromising the quality of the clean. We have a reputation for solving difficult access problems and safely completing even the most challenging of exterior cleaning projects.

TYPES OF ACCESS

Our operators are experienced in high-access cleaning work and are fully IPAF trained providing complete peace of mind.

MEWPS

We use a variety of different mobile elevated work platforms (MEWPS) to access high-level cleaning projects, including cherry pickers, scissor lifts and articulated boom lifts.

PLATFORM ACCESS

In some cases, the only way to reach difficult-to-access places is to use a suspended access cradle - a safe and versatile solution.

ROPE ACCESS

For some projects rope access is the best, most cost-efficient way to reach high-access areas. We use IRATA-trained operators and have full insurance, removing risk from your business.

CONFINED SPACES

It is not just high-level projects that require specialist access, working in a confined space can be equally challenging. However tight the squeeze, we know the best way of tackling exterior cleaning jobs in spatially challenged locations.

SCAFFOLDING

In some cases we use a Mobile Access Tower for high level cleaning projects. We always try find an alternative to fixed scaffolding as it is the most costly way of gaining high level access.

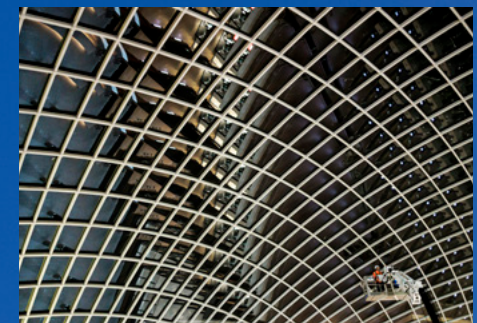

SPIDERS

It is not just height that requires specialist access, sometimes it's a case of restricted space to set up the equipment that we need to use. A compact spider crane fits neatly into even the narrowest alley way and can even be used indoors.

TRUCK MOUNTED

We use truck mounted cherry pickers to allow us to access very tall buildings, especially where considerable outreach is required to access the exterior surface that requires cleaning.

One Glass Wharf is an award-winning building that forms the centrepiece of Bristol's high-end business quarter. Property managers, Knight Frank, rely on OneFifty to keep this exceptional building looking immaculate at all times.

We follow tried, tested, and proven processes which guarantee the best possible cleaning outcome. Whatever the surface material and whichever the contaminant, we know how to achieve superior cleaning results whilst mitigating risk of damage.

Our fully trained and experienced operators take pride in their work; they are punctual, courteous, respectful, and diligent, and will always ensure that work is completed to the highest standards.

PROBLEM SOLVERS

We are problem solvers and often get called in to deal with difficult projects that other companies either do not want, or do not know how, to do. If you have a challenging project and need help or advice, give us a call.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

OneFifty is fully committed to operating safely and we take our health & safety obligations very seriously. Our employees are IPAF qualified and experienced in working at height on a range of equipment. They also hold CSCS cards and PASMA qualifications. All abseiling work is planned and supervised by an IRATA Level 3 qualification holder.

PROTECTING THE PUBLIC AND OUR STAFF

We understand how to operate safely around the public and always use portable barriers to professionally cordon off areas we are working in, keeping both operatives and the public safe. When using chemicals we ensure that our staff are wearing appropriate PPE such as goggles, respirators, and protective clothing.

PROPERLY INSURED FOR PEACE OF MIND

Finally, we are correctly insured for the work we carry out, providing additional peace of mind for our clients.
